RUMANIANS RETREATING

AUSTRO-GERMANS AT GRIPS WITH FOE IN THE EAST.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—Fresh progress has been made by the French on the Somme front and German attacks in Champagne and in the Verdun sector have been beaten off, the French war office stated today in its official communiqué.

South of the Somme where the French scored a brilliant gain yesterday they have consolidated their gains. 1400 prisoners were taken.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Austro-German army under General Von Falkenhayn which is at grips with the Rumanians in the Transylvanian Alps is increasing its pressure and the retreat of the Rumanians is becoming a rout.

With the Rumanians fleeing through the mountain passes military experts predict that all the fighting in the Transylvanian theatre of war will be taking place on Rumanian soil before the present week is out.

On both sides of Kronstadt (Brasso) German troops are pressing on the heels of the disorganized Rumanians.

Mount Negru, west of Vulcan Pass, is again in German hands.

The Rumanian campaign, so far as the central powers are concerned, has resolved itself into a mighty double drive, one force striking northward into Rumania from Dobruja; the other driving southward from Hungary. Bucharest is the goal.

Anglo-French positions on the Somme front were kept under violent artillery fire by the Germans during the night, especially the new positions of the French south of the Somme river. The Germans were attempting to prevent consolidation of the newly gained ground of the allies and some strong counter attacks were launched.

Allied artillery replied to the German guns and a lively artillery duel developed.

General Foch's troops are on the outskirts of the important town of Chaumes, as a result of the new thrust on Tuesday and it is believed that Chaumes will soon be in French hands.

Replying to the protest of the Norwegian government regarding the sinking on April 9 of the Norwegian steamship Sjølist, by a German submarine without warning, Germany has officially notified Norway that she regrets the act and declares her willingness to pay full indemnity. No lives were lost in the sinking.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—The belief that the German submarines operating off the American coast are mothered by the submersible Deutschland was expressed here today by Henry O. Berg of New York, formerly a builder of submarines. He says the Deutschland could carry 1,000 tons of fuel, convey five fighting submarines across the Atlantic at cruising speed, keep them supplied with fuel for 120 days and return with them to a German port.

NEARLY FROZE HIM TODAY.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 11.—E. J. Kappler, resident of Mansfield, just back from nine years in the Philippines did not take kindly to the cool breezes off Lake Erie this morning and scurried to a haberdashery to purchase heavy clothing. He says he is only 20 cents a dozen on the island and the temperature is usually between 90 and 100.

GORE ADDRESS DUE TO START AT 7:30 SHARP

Blind Orator and Wife Will be Entertained at the Lima Club.

WILL ANSWER HUGHES

G. O. P. Campaign Launched With Two Speakers and One Fit.

By David W. Rowman.

Senator Thomas P. Gore, the blind Oklahoma statesman, reputed to be without a superior among the orators of congress, will arrive in Lima via the C. & D. at 4:41 this afternoon. He will be met by a committee composed of Chairman J. Miller Laudick, George E. Bayly, Warren J. McLaughlin and Miner Crossley, of the county executive committee, who will act as a reception committee.

REGISTER.

Voters who failed to register have another chance tomorrow between the hours of 8 a. m. and 2 p. m. and between 4 p. m. and 9 p. m. A list of registration places is printed in another column. If you are not positive of your precinct call the board of elections, Main 1805, or democratic headquarters, Main 3664. LIMA VOTERS MUST REGISTER THIS YEAR IN ORDER TO VOTE.

Senator Gore is accompanied on his speaking tour by his wife, who has been his constant companion on all of his campaigns. Mrs. Gore serves as a pair of eyes for the blind man, and it is a known fact that she needs to read a set of statistics to him but once. His remarkable memory, the marvel of the upper house, enables him to retain the figures and facts for years without refreshing his mind.

The committee will entertain Senator and Mrs. Gore at the Lima club, going thence directly to the Memorial hall for the evening meeting. Stage seats have been provided for old soldiers and others who may have difficulty in hearing the speakers, and members of the Young Men's Wilson-Cox club will act in the capacity of ushers.

The meeting will be opened by Chairman Baxter of the central committee, who will turn it over to Attorney Walter B. Richie. The latter will preside and it is to introduce the speakers. Congressional nominee Ben F. Welty precedes the senator, and will discuss the methods of campaigning to which Charles Evasive Hughes has resorted.

Senator Gore, as announced, will pay his respects to the issues raised by Hughes, as well as replying to the recent utterances of Roosevelt. The record of President Wilson in passing progressive legislation, with special emphasis on the federal reserve law, the child labor act, the federal workmen's compensation law, the currency measure and the eight-hour law, will receive his attention during the greater portion of the evening, however.

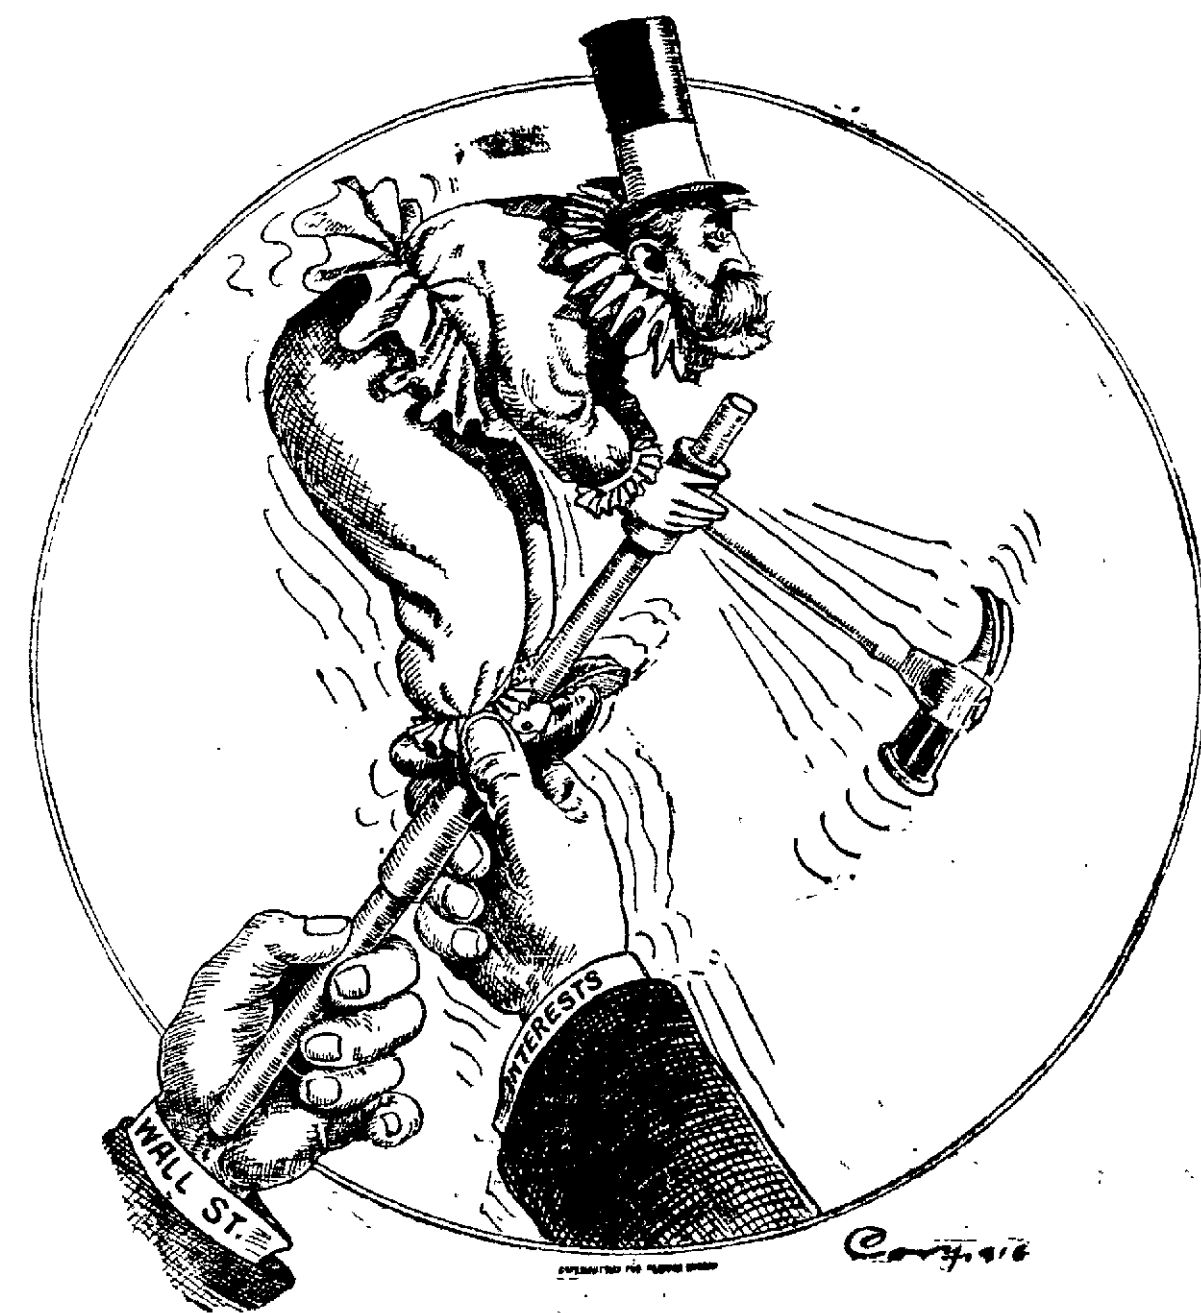

The senator and his wife will be at the Lima House overnight, and leave early tomorrow for Attica, Ind., en route to Chicago, early tomorrow morning.

The G. O. P. campaign opening at Memorial hall last night was productive of some remarkable happenings. Willis was late, running true to form, but the program was not devoid of features.

The stage was decorated in flags, most of them hung up backwards, and around the walls were hung pictures of James G. Blaine, the also-ran of '84, Taft and T. R., the also-rans of 1912, at a safe distance. Grant, who was president when Black Friday was staged by Fisk and Gould, McKinley, the tariff writer, former Justice Charles Evasive Hughes, Fairbanks, the tall cedar of the Wabash, and other eminent

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 11.—A crowd exceeding that of yesterday turned out here this afternoon for the fourth Dodger-Red Sox battle for the base ball championship. It looked like 23,000 at least when "play ball" sounded at 2 p. m.

Practically every $3 chair was occupied. So were the majority of the boxes. The $5 upper grand stand seats, unpeopled yesterday, were plentifully sprinkled with fans this afternoon while the bleachers were jammed to capacity.

The increase in the throng showed re-awakened interest in the Dodgers' chances on the part of the Brooklyn fans. Also, the moderation of the weather brought out many enthusiasts who stayed away from the opener fearing clouds and pneumonia.

Both teams took the field about 1:30 and from then on engaged in spirited batting and fielding practice, executing many pretty plays. The multitude, however, maintained a passive attitude and only a few ripples of applause came from the stands.

Two bands were on the job again accompanied by a squad of megaphone singers. Whenever a popular ditty was played, the stand's joined in the chorus and music—or near music flooded Brooklyn.

The batting order: Boston—Hooper, rf; Janvrin, 2b; Walker, lf; Hoblitzel, 1b; Lewis, cf; Gardner, 3b; Scott, ss; Carrigan, c; Leonard, p.

Brooklyn—Johnson, rf; H. Myers, cf; Morley, 1b; Wheat, lf; Cutshaw, 2b; Mowrey, 3b; Olson, ss; Myers, c; Marquard, p.

Umpires—Quigley behind the plate; Dineen on bases; O'Day and Connolly on foul lines.

First Inning.
Boston: Hooper up. Ball one. Ball two, high. Strike one, called. Strike two, called. Hooper out, Marquard to Morley. Janvrin up. Strike one, called. Ball one, wide. Ball two, low. Strike two, foul. Ball three, wide. Strike three—fanned. Janvrin struck out. Walker up. Ball one, low and wide. Strike one, foul. Strike two, missed. Strike three—fanned. No runs. No hits. No errors. None left.

Marquard pitched 15 balls in the first inning, and eight of them were strikes.

Brooklyn: Johnston up. Johnston tripled on the first ball pitched, sending the crowd crazy. H. Myers up. Strike one, called. Strike two, missed. Johnston scored on Myers' single to right. Morley up. Ball one, wide. Ball two, low. Strike one, foul. Ball three, low. Ball four—Morley walked. Wheat up. Strike one, called. Wheat forced out Morley at second. Gardner to Janvrin. Myers going to third on the play. Cutshaw up. Ball one, low. Wheat went to second on a wild pitch. Ball two, low. Strike one, missed. Strike two, foul. Ball three, low. Myers scored when Janvrin fumbled Cutshaw's grounder. Wheat going to third and Cutshaw stopping at first. Mowrey up. Ball one, low and close. Ball two, wide. Strike one, foul. Strike two, missed. CITES LIMA CASE.

"I talked with a coal miner in Guernsey county still on crutches and unable to work whose compensation had been stopped. In the plant of the Lima Locomotive works is a man still using a crutch and a cane to walk, unable to work, whose compensation has been stopped."

DEFIANCE, Oct. 11.—Charging Governor Frank B. Willis with making important personal appointments in the industrial commission at the behest of interests identified with the liability insurance companies for the purpose of administering the compensation law to cripple it, James M. Cox last night made the most savage criticism he has yet aimed at the Willis administration.

The attack was made here last night at the closing meeting in Defiance county after he had swung through the county with other candidates and spoken at a dozen points.

The criticism of the Willis administration were received with loud applause.

There are many laboring men in the factories in Defiance who are familiar with the workmen's compensation law.

Gov. Willis also was charged with practically wrecking the department of factory inspection by the appointment of a fute player and, later, by the appointment of an actor as chief

TERROR REIGNS AT BAYONNE AS STRIKERS RIOT

BAYONNE, N. J., Oct. 11.—Strikers of the Tidewater Oil company held Bayonne in a grip of terror today.

One thousand strikers attacked J. J. O'Connor, lieutenant of the Lehigh Valley railroad police, and five assistants, beating them into unconsciousness. Believing O'Connor was dead the strikers threw his body across the railroad tracks and left it. Two other railroad detectives were nearly beaten to death in another attack.

All of the Constable Hook section of the city was in the hands of the strikers and no person was allowed to enter unless he explained his business. Herbert Richards, a traveling man, did not move fast enough for the strikers when ordered to leave, and was attacked and badly beaten. The police were powerless.

The authorities have granted the Standard Oil company, owner of the Tidewater company, permission to use machine guns against the strikers. The company asked such permission early today.

A mob held up a Jersey Central freight train in the belief it was hauling gunpowder to the oil plant. While the fireman fought off the strikers who tried to climb aboard the engine, the engineer opened the throttle and the train rattled through. The strikers managed to cut off six cars which they rifled.

Another mob attacked the telegraph office of the Jersey Central station at Twenty-second street, ordering Miss Anna Dedy, telegraph operator to leave. When she refused she was beaten.

A situation which threatened to develop into the most dangerous of the strike arose at noon when between 700 and 800 armed strikers moved upon the police station to rescue two strikers whom the police had arrested.

The strikers threatened to tear down the police station if the prisoners were not given up.

SHADOW LAWN, Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 11.—Secretary of State Lansing, who came here to confer with President Wilson, left for Washington this morning.

Asked if the conference would result in the sending of another note to Germany on submarine activity and if it pertained in any way to Ambassador Gerard's visit, Mr. Lansing remained silent.

Feeling here is that while it is possible that a note may be sent to Germany, it is not strongly probable. The president was busy during the morning, preparing for his departure at 1:50 this afternoon for Indianapolis, where he will make three speeches tomorrow.

President Wilson will return here Friday. Saturday will be Pennsylvania day at Shadow Lawn. The president will then address Pennsylvania democrats who are coming on five special trains.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Official statements were reiterated today that so far as is known, the German submarine work off the North Atlantic coast was entirely within international law.

Secretary Daniels categorically denied published reports that the navy department had information that the steamer Stephano was fired upon before all the passengers and crew had been placed in life-boats.

The navy department has not received indications from any source that passengers and crew were not on the Stephano when that vessel was fired upon," he said.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A possibility that Germany has established, or is seeking to establish, a submarine base on the Mexican coast is contained in the latest developments in the "U" boat raid on shipping in American waters.

The last reported position of the U-53 was 158 mi. due east of Fire Island, which is a considerable distance south of the Nantucket's sailing zone, where she was operating on Sunday.

A high British official stated that Captain Rose of the U-53 might head for the Gulf of Mexico and attempt to resume raiding. But he admitted that the temptation of sinking ships such as the Adriatic, the Philadelphia and the Mississippi might induce him to linger off New York.

Germany is expected to agree not to try to blockade American ports with her submarine fleet. She will, however, insist on her right to operate generally along the regular steamship lanes in her attack upon "enemy commerce."

I.N.S. GETS WAR NEWS IN SPITE OF BRITISH CENSORSHIP

London Displeased Because the Service Prints Facts as They Are.

(By Fred J. Wilson, General Manager, International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The English censors have been threatening for many months to deny the International News Service the privileges of the mails and cables because the International News Service did not print the kind of news that the English desired to have printed in this country.

The International News Service has defied the censors and declared its determination to print the facts as nearly as it could find them without regard to English preference and prejudices.

The English censors issued a statement saying that the International News Service has been denied the mails and the cables because it has distorted the news. The facts of the matter are that the International News Service has been denied the mails and cables because it has not been willing to distort the news.

The International News Service has printed many important news facts exclusively, news facts which even the English papers did not get until they saw them in the American papers subscribing to the International News Service and then were compelled to copy them from the International News Service papers.

Among those news beats and accurate news statements of the International News Service was the sinking of the Audacious, a most important fact which the English papers were not able to print until after it appeared in the International News Service papers.

There was much criticism of the English censorship by the English press because the American papers printed news, genuine news, undistorted news of vital importance to England, that the English papers were not able to get and not able to publish.

The International News Service is an American institution, published for the service of the American people. It gets and prints facts that the American people want to read and are not biased and distorted statements that the English people want printed. It is the intention of the International News Service to continue printing the news, all the news, and nothing but the news.

It is the intention of the managers of the International News Service to continue printing opinions and interviews criticizing the English censorship and assailing the English government whenever the acts of these English institutions conflict with the interest of the American public.

The purpose of the International News Service is to be an American institution for the American people and without regard to the threats or cajolements of foreign nations to print the truth and the full truth for the information of the American public.

The action of the British censor is the greatest compliment that could be paid to the International News Service.

The British censorship has been a news-suppressing institution and a news-falsifying institution from the beginning of the war.

The British government wants American newspapers to print only such news as will please and assist the British government.

The British government wants American newspapers to print only distorted news or lying news.

The International News Service will not distort the news nor falsify the news to please the British government nor anybody else.

The International News Service loses nothing by being debarred from the use of official British news channels, because it is practically impossible to get the truth through those channels.

The International News Service will continue to obtain the true news of European events, and its subscribers will continue to print the true news of European events in spite of any and all efforts of the British government or the British censorship to keep them from obtaining and disseminating the true news.

Exclusive publication in America of the news of the sinking of the British dreadnaught Audacious was one of the first great beats scored in the war by the International News Service.

The British government forbade even reports or rumors of the ship's loss, and late denied that the vessel had been destroyed at all. Soon after the International News Service obtained and published actual photographs of the destroyed vessel. An effort was made by the British censors to prevent American newspapers containing news or pictures of the Audacious.

TIFFIN, O., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Fred Myers, wife of a Tiffin plumber, is heiress to $180,000, left by Shannon Bailey, wealthy bachelor, who died recently in Winnipeg, Canada, according to documentary evidence submitted here today.

For several months a country-wide search has been made to find the place of Bailey, who, as Florence N. Whitmore, was adopted from the Logan county children's home in 1895. Mrs. Myers has an original contract of adoption showing that she under the above name, was adopted from the home of Meade H. Taylor and wife, July 23, 1895. The family later removed to Tiffin and then to Attica, this county. When 18 years of age the girl married Fred Myers, of this city, and they now have four children. Mrs. Myers' parents are both dead and she has no brothers or sisters. Her first knowledge that she had relatives of wealth and that she was sought as an heiress came to her notice last week through a new article stating that Miss Whitmore was being sought by an aunt, Mrs. Lydia Whitmore, of Huntsville, Logan county, that the latter might claim her inheritance. Mrs. Myers has placed her proofs in the hands of an attorney, who is making an investigation preparatory to filing the claim in court.

COX CHARGES PLAN TO KILL WORKMEN COMPENSATION LAW

Inspector Gov. Cox hooted at the action of Gov. Willis in seeking to quote an increase in compensation awards paid as proof of his friendship for the law.

The accidents, he said, were caused by inefficient inspectors who had been named for political reasons and who did not know their work. He directly charged that Dr. A. W. Binckley, chief medical officer of the compensation department, was forced out of place by Gov. Willis and a man put in whose backers were identified with the fight of the liability companies in the state to defeat the compensation law.

He charged that Dan R. Hanna and his friends named Dr. Willis of Cleveland, now chief medical officer, and he held the plan was to wreck the law by an unsatisfactory administration of it and scant justice to injured claimants.

He cited two cases. He said Hanna's personal attorney was chief counsel for the Equity league, formed for the purpose of wrecking the compensation law, and still Hanna and his friends named the man on whose medical certificates the awards were or were not made.

He laid the entire blame directly at the door of Gov. Willis. The criticism came tonight after Cox had severely handled the state administration for, as he charged, deluding the working people of the state on other issues.

He charged that Gov. Willis in a public speech in Belmont county two years ago promised the coal miners that no part of the coal screen law would be changed and yet he helped in putting through the Gallagher bill that knocked the law to pieces.

"He has not had the nerve to look a coal miner in the face during the present campaign," Cox concluded.

"He has made other promises and they are coming home to roost," Cox declared. He then took up the workmen's compensation question and said:

"And there is a very plain reason why he is seeking to do this. The thing is coming home to roost. There are two reasons that impel him to that course.

"One is that working men of the state are quite able to notice and understand the opposition of the liability insurance companies to me and they are also noting the deep and persistent interest these same companies are manifesting in Gov. Willis.

"Last evening at Piqua Gov. Willis said he deeply regretted that the question of compensation was put into politics. Well, he put it there himself.

"He is quoting figures to show he has paid more compensation, more death claims, than were paid when I was in office. To that I can only say that, while I was there, all legitimate claims proved were paid.

"If he has paid more he has had more accidents among the workmen, more men crippled, more lives lost, more human woe. And he probably has more, because the state department of inspection of workshops and factories was not before, in the history of the state, so inefficient.

"The reason for that is that snobs have interfered with the inspection of the workmen of the state had been receiving.

"That there has been an increase in accidents is in no way surprising. But Gov. Willis' quoting death and accident claims to prove the worth of his administration, is like a physician calling an undertaker to prove his worth as a physician.

"He says he is sorry the compensation question has been put into politics. So am I. But I want to call his attention to the fact that at his dictation Dr. A. W. Binckley, chief medical examiner of the compensation department, was forced to resign and his successor was named by influences that are quartered in the same office building in Cleveland where the liability insurance companies are located.

"Dr. Will White of Cleveland was named as chief medical officer of the compensation department by Dan R. Hanna and his friends.

"The connection between Mr. Hanna and the liability insurance companies is shown by the fact that a few years ago Mr. Hanna's personal counsel, Mr. Grant, was general legal adviser for the Ohio Equity association, organized by the liability concerns for the specific purpose of destroying the compensation law in Ohio.

"I charge that this appointment was made for the purpose of crippling the workmen's compensation law, the plan being to kill it by making it unpopular with the working people.

"They can do so and, in some cases, they are apparently doing so by deliberately delaying claims and denying adequate justice to claimants. "Medical certificates and medical reports can stop the pay and deny justice to these men. As a result of these two cases and others, the miners and the employees of the locomotive works are offended, they blaming the provisions of the law instead of placing their blame on its administration. This course is cruel and but little short of criminal."

Yesterday Cox read many records calculated to show how the taxes in this county had been raised by the present administration. He said raises were all on real estate.

To the women in many audiences yesterday he said if they could vote, and he was not talking suffrage, the mother heart of America would cast a solid vote for Wilson, "who kept the country out of war."

CLIMATIC CONDITIONS

LOTS OF times I have heard persons say they have been "frozen with a look," receiving the "cold shoulder," or a "burning glance," or things of that sort, haven't you?

And just as many times, you have shivered from cold glances when the temperature hovered about the 100 degree mark, haven't you? And have you ever experienced a delicious feeling of warmth which comes from a genial smile on the coldest of wintry days?

To extemporize on either the wintry smile on a warm day or a warm smile on a wintry day would be to go deep into the kindness and human love of all of us.

I once knew a woman who didn't like summer because she said it made her husband so peevish and fretful. And she didn't like winter because she was so cold blooded she couldn't stand the cold, in turn making her miserable for her husband who would have liked the winter if climatic conditions of the home had been right. Neither spring nor fall suits them either, because the spring slush generally gave them colds, and the fall was a time to be devoted to buying coal and replenishing the winter wardrobe. And so it is that they have gone through life suffering the disagreeable effects of the seasons.

There is joy in all of the seasons—In the spring there is the joy of awakening life, the summer, the rest time of the year, when the world is a full blown garden; in the autumn the beauty of color, the renewing of ambitions, and the winter holds forth the work period and the time for good fellowship around a crackling fire. With all of these delights one can't help but be satisfied with the climatic conditions and as if by magic the wintry smile, the "cold shoulders," the "burning glances," "frozen looks," and so forth, disappear and in their place comes the "smile that won't rub off" because it is born of good will and happiness.

And whether it be rainy, snowy, windy, blustering, blistering, freezing, or glorious weather, it's always the "just right" kind if you make it so, and there is some one else who shares your views. As Mark Twain said, "It is human environment that makes climate."

Mrs. H. W. Beckman, of Delphos, is the guest of relatives in this city for a few days.

Mrs. Chalmers Brown entertained the St. Martha's Guild at her home yesterday afternoon. Sewing occupied the hour of the afternoon, which were enjoyed by the members and guests, who were Mrs. Martha Roby and Miss Pearl Jackson. Mrs.
L. C. Welch was taken into the club as a new member. Refreshments were served by the hostess after which the society adjourned to meet again in two weeks with Mrs. Elsie Cover of North Baxter street.

Chautauqua club members were entertained last evening by Miss Drusilla Kelly at her home on North Baxter street. Many guests of the club members attended the meeting, making quite a large number of interested women who listened to the splendid address given by Miss Elizabeth Hauser. Miss Hauser was introduced by Mrs. W. E. Crayton, who accompanied the suffrage speaker to Delphos yesterday afternoon, appearing herself on the platform.
Miss Hauser's talk last evening was confined to a general view of the campaign. Miss Eleanor Isham and Miss Marie Nagle gave several musical selections. Delightful and delectable refreshments were served during the evening. Miss Hauser, Mrs. Crayton and Miss Nettie Shook were entertained before the club meeting by Miss Kelly with dinner at the Business Women's club.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Reese, Miss Ida Weaver and Mrs. Sarah Weaver left this morning for several weeks visit with relatives in Trumbull county.

Mrs. L. H. Earl will entertain the Needlecraft club at her home Saturday afternoon. This is the opening meeting of the year and all members are urged to attend.

A change from the usual has been made in the program of the state convention of federated clubs to be held at Dayton. Instead of the formal reception, which has generally been held the evening before the opening of the convention, it will be held the evening of the opening day, Tuesday. For this, "Sanctuary" by Percy MacKay, will be given.

Thursday evening the banquet will be a social affair of great interest.
Among the women of Lima who will attend Mrs. B. A. Gramm, Miss Katherine Kelly, Mrs. O. B. Self-ridge, Mrs. George Vicary, Mrs. C. S.

Baxter and Mrs. C. W. Simpson.
Of interest to club women will be the fact that Mrs. Van Cleve Holmes has been appointed chairman of the state school work of the Lima club.
Information of the club standing may be gained by calling Mrs.
Holmes, whose telephone number is Main 4260. If possible all clubs should see that their dues for this are paid up to 1916.

Mrs. Otto MacDonald, and Mrs.
Lon Wilkinson and children were the guests over the week end of friends in this city.

Mrs. Louise Schaffer of Landeck, Ohio, and Miss Katherine Longmeyer of Delphos were the guests of relatives here yesterday.

Mrs. A. T. MacDonell accompanied her sister, Mrs. Richard A. Heddings, as far as Chicago, on her return trip to Los Angeles. Mrs. Heddings has been the guest of Mrs. MacDonell for several weeks.

Members of the Walla Alla club were entertained last evening at the home of Miss Doris Miller. Fall flowers were used in decoration of the rooms where music, cards, and sewing were the diversions of the evening. Delicious refreshments concluded the evening. Miss Nettie Johnston will entertain the club at its next meeting.

Miss Martha Steuber entertained the A. O. T. club members last evening at her home. Music and sewing were the evening's diversions.
A delectable lunch was served at the conclusion of the evening. Miss Verla May was the only guest other than the club members who are the Misses Stueber, Winona Neumann, Ella Churchill, Grace May, Marguerite Orchard, Esther Davis, Maude Nikerson, Helen Spornagel, Mrs. Carl Miller and Mrs. Ross Peple.

Mrs. Loughrin, of New York City, is the guest of Miss Margaret B and Misses Jeanette and Frieda Flumming were hostesses last evening of the second meeting of the year of the Jitsau Tau club. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the evening. The club which meets every two weeks will meet next time with Mrs. Ireton, of West "wing street."

Stitchery club members held their opening meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carl Bowditch, of West Market street. The afternoon was spent in sewing, at the conclusion, a delectable lunch was served by the hostess. Guests of the club were Mrs. Jesse Rose, Mrs. Carl Fletcher and Mrs. Plummer. The club will meet again in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Brown, of North Collett street.

Mrs. George Kerr, of West Wayne street, was hostess yesterday of the Ladies' Aid society of the Central Church of Christ. The afternoon was devoted to a social tea, many friends of the society being its guests.

For the first meeting of the year of the Triomphe Euchre club, Mrs.
James Duffield was hostess yesterday afternoon at her home. The rooms in which five tables were filled for play were beautifully decorated with fall flowers and leaves. The guest's prize for the afternoon was won by Mrs. Edward Hawsher, and the club prize was won by Mrs. S.

The Strange Psychology of Married Couples As to Pet Names

Dorothy Dix Tells of the Wives Who Pile Away if They Are Not Called "Sweetheart" Often Enough, and Also of the Couples Who in Their Fiercest Quarrels Still Call Each Other "Dearest."

MUST A MAN call his wife pet names even if he feels like beating her?

It is the solemn and sacred duty of a husband to address the partner of his bosom as "my little ducky daddie," or "my precious tootsy wootsy," and if he fails to do so has the lady just cause for divorce?

This is an interesting domestic problem that is about to be solved by law, for the supreme court has been asked to decide whether it is cruelty for the husband to fail to address his wife in terms of endearment.

Sues to Divorce Husband Who Called Her "Dear" Only Once in Two Years.

The point in question has arisen in the case of a woman who is suing her husband for divorce on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment, which has broken her heart and wrecked her life, the said cruel and inhuman treatment consisting principally in the fact that he never used any terms of endearment to her, and only called her "dear" once in two years. And that was before people.

To the outsider this seems a trifling reason for breaking the holy bonds of wedlock. It makes a sensitive person wonder why a woman should wish to be called pet names by a husband who does not desire to pet her, since spontaneity is the soul of such matters.

Cold love talk is the clamorous thing in the world, and for a husband to still call his wife "kitten" after he has come to look upon her as an old cat whose claws he is afraid of, is not only a travesty on affection, but an insult as well.

Also in this particular case one has a certain admiration for the honest husband who refused to be hypocritical enough to call his wife "dear" when he was thinking something else about her that began with a big, big D.

Ever Hear a Married Couple in a Bitter Quarrel Still Use Pet Names?

Indeed, so far from upholding the wife who has gone to law to compel her husband either to pay alimony or else address her in love terms, the general public would like to get out an injunction restraining the married couples who continue the habit of calling each other pet names when they are scratching each other's eyes out.

Who has not listened with sardonic amusement to a quarrel between husband and wife in which the husband would say, "My precious faziest, most trifling, extravagant, wasteful fool of a woman on earth, you would never run up a grocery bill like that," and the wife would reply, "Sweetheart, if you were not a bully and a brute and a close-fisted miser, you'd never say a thing like that to me."

Or, perhaps, the husband says, "Angel face, that hat makes you look about a million years old in the shade. I would think at your age you'd have enough sense to get things that suited a fat, old woman, instead of trying to dress like a debutante," or the wife says, "Idiot of my soul, don't tell me you haven't been drinking. I can smell your breath. You can't fool me—you've been wasting the money that I need for parlor curtains on a lot of your bum friends," and so on ad infinitum.

Such ludicrous scenes where, in family fights, terms of deathless endearment and body blows rain thick and fast are so common that they have not only taken the gilt off of the gingerbread that married couples have handed to each other, but they have made us suspicious of it.

Experience has shown us that as a general thing, the married couple that spoon the most in public, scrap the most in private, and that the husbands and wives who are "darlings," and "dearies," and "sweeties," in company are generally called by a shorter and uglier name at home.
Real love, real tenderness, the affection that endures is like good wine. It needs no brand to advertise it.

But there is one pathetic aspect to the case of the wife who considers that her husband has inflicted cruel and inhuman treatment upon her by not calling her "dear." It illustrates once again the strange war in the feminine psychology that makes women put more stress on words than they do on deeds.

Women Appreciate Man's Deeds, But They Value His Words Almost as Much.

This causes them to be the eternal prey of villains, and the despair of good men, for it makes them elope with glib-tongued Lotharios, and scorn the honest wooers who offer them a dumb devotion.

As long as a man will make love to a woman she will adore him, no matter how he treats her. As long as a husband will call his wife pet names, and tell her that she is the most beautiful and wonderful creature on earth, she will take boarders to support him, and work her fingers to the bone while he loaf, and still consider that she drew the capital prize in matrimony.

But a man may worship every hair in his wife's head. He may be as faithful as Jacob, as domestic as a house cat, he may work himself to death to indulge her every whim and caprice, and yet if he doesn't pay her compliments, and tell her every morning in round, set terms that he adores her, and if he doesn't call her some fool love name, she will doubt his affection, and envy her sister who married the hot air artist.

And considering that this is woman's unalterable viewpoint, perhaps it is cruel and inhuman treatment for a man not to use endearments in addressing his wife. At any rate it facilitates the running of the domestic machinery to lubricate it with plenty of soft soap. If it pleases a wife to be called "lovey dovey" instead of Mary Ann, it's a mean-spirited husband who doesn't gratify the precious darling little pet.

morrow. You might lose daughter of A. D. Rider, known as the "Cranberry King" in New Jersey, drove her automobile through a gang of 12 bandits who tried to hold up her father while each one of them pulled a pistol and fired on her. Her uncle was killed and her father badly wounded, while a friend fell with seven wounds. She herself was struck twice, but she drove on till before she gave up. Millie De Marco, caught later with some of the thieves, made a confession.

HOPE TO RECOVER TREASURE ABOARD LOST LUSITANIA

Attempt May be Made by Company Headed by Retired Rear Admiral.

Lies 270 Feet Below Surface, Eight Miles Off Knisale, Ireland.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Plans to salvage the treasure of the Lusitania, variously estimated at from one million to several millions of dollars in money, jewelry and other valuables, lying beneath the waves eight miles off the Irish coast, are being made secretly in this city.

The attempt may be made early next spring by one salvaging firm, and there may be others, including an English company, as the Lusitania is, to use a sporting phrase, "Anybody's pigeon."

It is known that negotiations are proceeding with the English underwriters by one firm here, and that all available data concerning the position and condition of the sunken steamship, including the depth of water, temperature, currents and generally prevailing conditions, are being collected.

The information acquired during the past few months has now led to a confidence that what treasure there is in the strong room, passengers' cabins and baggage holds can with a reasonable amount of luck be retrieved.

The possibility of actually salvaging the vessel itself and beaching her on the Irish coast has been considered tentatively. The main deterrent is not the size but the condition of the vessel, and also the question of how much of her was left intact by the explosion of the torpedo which sent her to the bottom with a thousand victims in May, 1915. Nevertheless, when diving operations are begun in the spring, as The New York World reported was told is practically certain, the vessel will be thoroughly examined to determine if there is a possible chance of bringing her once more to the surface.
The Lusitania was valued at $10,- 000,000, and even as scrap she would prove a bonanza in metal value alone.

Down 270 Feet.
The Lusitania lies resting 270 feet below the surface at an accurately charted point directly off the Old Head of Knisale, eight miles seaward. Such a depth a few years ago would have rendered salvage work practically unthinkable, but modern improvement in diving apparatus has made it possible for divers to work at that and even greater depths for considerable periods of time at a stretch.

This was demonstrated in raising the United States submarine F-4, which sank outside Honolulu harbor on March 25, 1915, and was re-flooded and towed into the harbor on August 29 of the same year. She lay on a slope of the ocean bed, her bow 238 feet below the surface and her stern 306 feet; yet divers worked in fair comfort at these depths, and thereby established a world's record.

The Lusitania's depth of 270 feet does not, to men with whom The World reporter talked, present the difficulties that the F-4 did, although there is one disadvantage in the difference in the temperature of the water, that off Honolulu being much warmer than off the coast of Ireland. But hope is expressed that the influence of the Gulf stream sweeping by the Irish coast may mitigate this difference, although definite data on this point has not yet been received.

Depth to Wreck.
In considering the 270 feet depth it was pointed out that this is the maximum, and proper allowance should be made for her height on beam, depending upon whether she is lying fairly upright or on her side. Her beam is over 80 feet and her height approximately the same.
This, it was contended, would considerably reduce the depth at which it would be necessary for the divers to work.

If lying fairly upright there would be little difficulty in retrieving the contents of the strong room, which is near the purser's office on one of the upper decks. The belongings of the wealthy passengers like Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt would present even less difficulty, as they would be higher up on the promenade decks.

The holds wherein are the passengers' baggage are on a level with the lower deck, which is above the vessel's water line, 31 feet above the keel. Lying on her side would offer perhaps even no advantages of operation, as access would be easy to various parts of the vessel, even to the cargo holds, where there are hundreds of tons of valuable imperishable materials, such as sheet brass, copper and military goods valued at the lowest estimate in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars.

A Rich Prize.
Although the Lusitania is a prize that makes the mouths of the salvage people water. If the yield was but a million dollars—and that to the salvage people is a very picaresque appraisal of what, with luck, they would retrieve from the Lusitania—the profit would be more than satisfactory. Usually the underwriters with whom the salvage companies

MISS STIRLING FAVORITE FOR WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMPION-SHIP WHEN MRS. VANDER-BECK DECIDES NOT TO DE-FEND TITLE.

MISS ALEXIA STIRLING
GOLF CHAMPION.

The entries for the women's amateur championship, which will be played at Boston next week have been sent out by the secretary of the United States Golf Association. In all there are sixty entries, which is hardly half of the players that took part in the event at Chicago last year.

Mrs. Vanderbeck, the Philadelphia star, who holds the title will not defend her championship this time, on account of not having played much golf this summer. New York also loses one of its leading contenders, as Mrs. Feitner, formerly Lillian Hyde, did not send in an entry.

The favorite undoubtedly will be Miss Alexia Stirling, of Atlanta, who has been playing the best golf of any of the women players lately. Only last week, she defeated Mrs. Vanderbeck at Philadelphia, and showed that she is on the very top of her game.

work in agreement are content with 10 per cent of the recoveries, leaving 90 per cent out of which to pay for operations and make a profit.

There was some flurry in salvage company offices here on receipt of a despatch from Manchester (England) saying that efforts to recover the Lusitania treasure would be begun immediately, but upon consideration the despatch was discounted.
It was contended that "immediately" would have to be within a few days, and that the operations would have to be completed before the end of October, on account of the winter temperature of the water, which, it is claimed, would make it impossible for divers to work after the first of November. A month would be too short a time to accomplish anything very tangible in the case of the Lusitania, it was contended.

Possible German Claim.
Another thing, it is said, which would probably prevent any English concern attempting the job, at least until after the war, would be danger from German submarine attack.
American vessels flying the American flag would be immune from such attacks.

A nice question, however, would arise as to whether, if treasure were recovered, German submarines could commandeer it from the American salvors. It was admitted that under international law they probably could, unless the articles could be shown to be owned by Americans.
To everything in the vessels belonging to English firms the Germans would have a confiscatory right.

Another interesting point would be the influence of any recovered treasure on the various suits which have been brought by survivors and heirs of victims against the Cunard company. At present claims aggregating $1,900,000 have been filed against the company, which has striven to have its liability fixed at $86,000. Some contend that any recovered treasure would have to go directly into court, and thereby increase the liability of the Cunard Company. This matter, The World reported was told, might safely be left to the future.

One salvage firm, whose name has been persistently mentioned in connection with the salvaging of the Lusitania, is the Inter-ocean Submarine Engineering Company, of which Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, U.
S. N., retired, is president. It stockholders include Albert H. Wiggin of the Chase National bank, Charles H.
Sabin and G. M. P. Murphy of the Guaranty Trust, and Percy A. Rockefeller.

Associated with Admiral Chester is George D. Stille, who several months ago retired from the United States navy with the rank of chief gunner and the reputation of being the best diver the service ever developed. He spent ten of his sixteen years in the navy as a diver, and was in charge of the five divers sent from the New York navy yard to raise the sunken F-4 off Honolulu.

Admiral Chester's son, Colby M.
Chester, Jr., who is one of the directors of the company, which has its offices at No. 120 Broadway, was wife, who are visiting here from to salvage the Lusitania.

for publication now," he answered.

mature. Nothing will be done until the spring."

NEXT CONGRESS TO BE DEMOCRATIC ONE

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Frank E.
Doremus, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee, told Chairman McCormick today the next congress will be democratic by a large majority.

"Two weeks ago," he said, "I estimated that the democrats would organize the next house by approximately 50 majority. Reports from various doubtful districts since then indicate this figure may be exceeded.
"Careful polls in the Detroit factories and the farming district of Michigan show a tremendous sentiment among republicans for President Wilson. The state will land in the Wilson column.

"President Wilson will be re-elected and the people are not going to in sympathy with him."

How Catarrh is Contracted.

Mothers are sometimes so thought-their children contract. The inflamfirst acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamused, and all this trouble might have

THE FAUROT'S PICTURES.

"The House of Lies", the new Paramount picture at the Faurot, is a photoplay of high romantic ideals and of that state of heart which Tennyson said was better than Norman blood. The romance is drawn against a background of utter selfishness and decadent folly, so that its charms comes not so much from strength of plot as from the beauty of its scenes and the beautiful sentiment it expresses. The brilliant beauty of Edna Goodrich, and with her grace of manner and quiet, forceful acting, is perfectly fitted in the role of the heroine, who wants to be loved not for her charm of person, but for the nobility of her mind and soul. There is an able cast in her support and Oliver Morosco has given the picture settings and photography of the most exquisite character.

gram. Last time tonight.

ity would alone assure success for the production. But the cast of

GAINS NOTED IN LEADING STOCKS ON WALL STREET TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Moderate gains were made in nearly all leading issues at the opening of the stock exchange today, but after the first 15 minutes trading there were the usual recessions on which many gains were lost and some issues declined to below yesterday's close. Columbia Gas was the most prominent feature being in continued demand, advancing 2 1/2 points to 42 in the first ten minutes. Tennessee Copper again reflected arbitrary selling against subscription rights and declined to 21 1/2. Union Pacific advanced 1/2 to 149 1/2, but later reacted to 148 1/2. U. S. Steel common, after starting 1/2 higher at 112 1/2, yielded to 111 1/2. Republic Iron and Steel opened 1/2 higher at 74 1/2 from which it declined to 73 1/2. Marine preferred yielded 1/2 to 100 1/2 at the start and in the next few moments it sold down to 101 1/2.

American Zinc was strong and advanced a point to 48. Losses of from 1/2 to 1/2 were sustained in many of the leading railway issues, including Reading, which sold at 108 1/2 against 108 3/4 at the end yesterday. At the end of the first hour's trading many of the specialties showed activity and strength with Texas company selling at 222, an advance of 2 points. Mexican Petroleum jumped 1 1/2 points to 108 1/2.

A steady undertone prevailed. Steel common yielded to 110 1/2. Union Pacific to 147 1/2, Republic Iron and Steel to 72 1/2 and Marine preferred to 106 1/2. Industrial Alcohol sold down to 117 1/2 against 120 1/4 at the close yesterday. Many of the specialties continued firm and made substantial gains. Columbia Gas rose 2 1/2 points to 42 to a new high record of 42 1/2. Ohio City Gas advanced 1/2 points to 80.

Money loaning at 2 1/2 per cent.

AMBASSADOR SHARP'S RETURN IS DELAYED

ELYRIA, O., Oct. 11.—The illness of Miss Effie Sharp, 14-year-old daughter of Ambassador and Mrs. William Sharp, has altered the plans of the family in the return to Paris. TUBE LINE STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Despite the vote in favor of a strike on the tubes under Hudson river, all hope of an eleventh hour settlement had not been abandoned today. G. W. Hangar of the federal board of mediation, who came here as a result of the trouble said that another effort at settlement would be made this afternoon. The trouble is due to the demand of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen for the reinstatement of 32 members of the union discharged because of union activities by the Hudson and Manhattan Railway Company.

These contributions came from every state in the union. The largest was one of $1,000 and the smallest $1. Nearly all were $5 or $10 contributions.

BROTHERHOOD CHIEF SCORES HUGHES ON 8 HOUR DECLARATION

Wilson Gives Shorter Day Now, Hughes Would Wait Until Death.

Garretson, Life-long Republican, Supports President With Vigor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Candidate Hughes' assertion that he believes in the principle of the eight-hour day drew a sharp reply today from A. E. Garretson, of Iowa, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, and spokesman for the railroad men during the recent negotiations. Mr. Garretson has been a life-long republican. In the statement made public today Mr. Garretson says: "Hughes makes it apparent that he is willing to extol the eight-hour day in public utterances but he holds making it actually operative as a deadly sin. "He avows his indying devotion to the principle of the eight-hour day, and then assails the action of the president of the United States for his effort to practically apply those beliefs on the ground that a few score of years should have been used for calm deliberation, ignoring the fact that centuries past have been available for consideration. "If train and engine employees had only approached the problem as a wage proposition they would never have included punitive overtime in their proposition because punitive overtime is a penalty to the working of excess hours, and it was only on the insistent demand of the president of the United States that they waived that feature of their proposal. "The real kernel of the situation is this: "Will the man who labors vote to continue in office a president whose action shows that he believes in an eight-hour day, but favors actually applying it after you're dead? "Do you want it here and now or do they want it embalmed with the heavenly harp and crown where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt and where the thieves do not break through and steal."

STILL ANOTHER OLD KENTUCKY FEUDIST DIES IN HIS BOOTS

Killing of Mose Feltner by a U. S. Marshal Makes for Law and Order.

JACKSON, Ky., Oct. 11.—Another Kentucky feudist has died "with his boots on." Mose Feltner, known in every household throughout the mountains, was killed last week by United States Marshal George Sizemore while resisting arrest. The officer was exonerated in the county court at Hazard, where the shooting occurred. Feltner figured in some way in nearly all the family fights in this section during his lifetime. He was one of the leaders in the Hargiss-Cockrell feud in "Bloody" Breathitt in 1905. He testified at the trial to a remarkable deal in assassination. He said that Sheriff Ed. Callahan and the Hargisses hired him to murder James B. Marcum, whose killing has been immortalized in the weird mountain ballads which can be heard from the mouths of the blind peddlers in every mountain county seat. Instead of doing the murder, he said, he warned Marcum. The passing of Feltner will hasten the disappearance of family warfare. If a member of an enemy clan had "got" him a bullet from ambush some dark night would probably have avenged him. But he was killed by a "neutral," he is out of the way, and in his going there is another sign of peace. Many Things Have Happened. Many things have happened in the last five years to stamp out feuds. There are the moonlight schools, fostered by Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, editor of the Moorehead Mountaineer, which are teaching old and young to read and write and to realize the folly of fighting. Probably the most important element of change is the industrial development. The whistle of the locomotive has driven out the report of the rifle. The mountaineers have learned that the pick and axe are better weapons than the gun and knife. This section abounds in coal and timber, which is now being developed on a large scale by eastern capitalists. The manner in which Judge James M. Benton enforced justice when the slayers of Sheriff E. Callahan were brought to trial in Winchester two years ago has also had a deterrent effect on crime. Fourteen men were under indictment for conspiracy to kill. A tangled web of false testimony caused Judge Benton to summon a special grand jury, which indicted 23 men for perjury and an attorney for the defense for subornation of perjury. There were four convictions for the murder. Drains of His Clan. Sheriff Ed. Callahan, often referred to as "Deacon," was shot from ambush in 1912. His kin seem to be satisfied with the four convictions Callahan was the brains of his clan. Fulton B. French, leader in the French-Eversole feud, passed away recently at Winchester. Although he had assisted at many such deeds, his own death was due to natural causes. He left the mountains and went to the Bluegrass to live the quiet life of a small-town businessman. He often said his only regret was the drowning of a chicken when he was a boy. So, too, Bob Profit, French's henchman, died recently at Winchester with a doctor at his bedside and no bullet holes in his body. He tired of fighting and went to Winchester, where he made money in the saloon business. And now Feltner is dead.
